

What does the Mother Teresa Society stand for? A mission of charity, tolerance, and love towards all people regardless of their ethnic background, as well as peace building based on justice and reconciliation. And a vision to be an assisting factor in building open civil society where human values are cultivated and live freely in peace, mutual respect and tolerance. How do we hope to help them? Through the creation of bracelets, which we will sell every other Thursday at lunch, we hope to support the Mother Teresa Society by giving them the money we raise. We will also strive to spread public awareness about their organization and the situation in Kosovo.

About Us

Who We Are

We are three students from the International School of Zug and Luzern in their last two years of school. Together we've been working since September to create bracelets and sell them in school and potentially elsewhere, to gather as much money as possible for the Mother Teresa Society Kosovo.

Our Plan

Short Term

Sell bracelets every other Thursday in school.
Raise awareness within our school.

Long Term

Sell at stalls at International Day and in local fairs.

About the Mother Teresa Society Kosovo

Aim

“To help by building on an open Civil society, where the values of all the people will be respected and cultivated regardless of nationality, religion or race, where the people will live side by side with mutual respect and tolerance.” (nenatereze.org)

History

Established on May 10th 1990, the Mother Teresa Society was the first local based non governmental organization in Kosovo. They were originally set up with the idea of alleviating and creating a chain of survival during the political and violent repression applied by the regime of that time. As stated on their website, “MTS acted as Ministry of Social Welfare by provision of humanitarian assistance, Ministry of Health by creating a chain of 96 mobile clinics and Maternity and Ministry of Education by supporting the educational system and provision of basic conditions.”

Current Situation

The war of 1998 to 1999 destroyed Kosovo, leaving it a highly dependent country.
- The unemployment rate is 48% (World Bank Study)
- 7% of the population are 'extremely poor' living on less than 0.93€ a day. (KISP)
